This beautiful and fully updated house is in an idyllic country setting in the foothills of the Ramapo Mountains, on the edge of Harriman State Park and across the road from the Torne Valley Winery, this house offers both natural solitude and access to downtown villages and major transportation options.

Once part of Torne Brook Farm, this serene home is the perfect balance between country and city. Situated at the foot of Torne Mountain, and near the Ramapo River and the Torne Brook, you will feel as if you've gone back in time. Whether hiking in Harriman State Park or exploring the Revolutionary era historic locations like the iron mines that provided the giant links in the chain across the Hudson, you will be enchanted by the vibrant natural scene. George Washington climbed Torne Mountain with a telescope to watch the British fleet off of Sandy Hook - and it is said you can still hear his pocket watch, which he lost in a crevice, ticking today.

The Ramapo Mountains name comes from the language of the Native American Lenape tribe - it means "Sweet Water"
